

US SC clears extradition of 26/11 convict Rana to India

Washington, Jan 25 (IANS) In a major development, the US Supreme Court on Saturday approved the extradition of Tahawwur Rana, a key accused in the 2008 Mumbai terrorist attacks, to India.

Rana, a Canadian national of Pakistani origin, has been declared a fugitive by India and faces multiple criminal charges related to the attacks that left 166 people dead, including six US citizens.

The US Supreme Court dismissed Rana's review petition against his extradition. He had filed a "petition for a writ of certiorari" in November last year, which was rejected on January 21.

This decision came a day after Donald Trump was sworn in as the 47th US President.

"Petition denied," the court stated. Rana's plea followed a series of failed legal battles in lower and federal courts, including the US Court of Appeals for the North Circuit in San Francisco.

US Solicitor General Elizabeth B. Prelogar had urged the Supreme Court to reject Rana's petition, a recommendation challenged unsuccessfully by Rana's counsel, Joshua L.

Dratel.

Rana, currently detained at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Los Angeles, is also a close associate of David Coleman Headley, the Pakistani-American Lashkar-e-Taiba terrorist who played a key role in planning the Mumbai terror attacks. Headley, who turned approver in the case, is serving a 35-year prison sentence in the US for his involvement in the brutal terror attacks on Indian soil.

India has been pursuing Rana's extradition to hold him accountable for his alleged role in facilitating the deadly attacks, which targeted iconic locations in Mumbai over four days in November 2008.

The attacks, orchestrated by the Pakistan-based Lashkar-e-Taiba, are among the worst terror incidents in India's history. With the Supreme Court's decision, Rana has exhausted all legal options to avoid extradition, paving the way for India to bring him to trial.

This marks a significant step in the long-standing quest for justice for the victims of the 26/11 attacks.

She also highlighted the giant leaps by the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) in space, in recent years.

"This month, the ISRO once again made the nation proud with its successful space docking experiment.

Their dreams are moulding the India of tomorrow when we will be celebrating the centenary of our Independence," she remarked. She also spotlighted the achievements of 'Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam', a project close to the heart of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

"Last year, on World Environment Day, we launched a unique campaign titled 'Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam', paying tribute to the nurturing power of our mothers as well as that of Mother Nature. Its target of planting 80 crore seedlings was achieved ahead of the deadline," she pointed out. She further exhorted the countrymen to affirm our commitment to strive to realise Gandhi ji's dreams. "His watchwords, truth and non-violence will continue to remain relevant for the whole world. DGGI slaps Jaisuka brothers with penalty in crores for GST evasion

Mail News Service

Jamshedpur, Jan 25 : The Directorate General of GST Intelligence (DGGI) cracked down on an alleged GST fraud involving prominent businessmen and hoteliers, the Jaisuka brothers. In an intense overnight operation that started on Friday morning and continued until Saturday, the DGGI uncovered irregularities in Input Tax Credit (ITC) filings, slapping penalties running into several crores.

The raids were launched across eight locations linked to Rivaah Resort owners Vikash and Rajesh Jaisuka in Jamshedpur and Adityapur.

Sources revealed that the brothers were not present at their residences when the operation began but were compelled to meet officials around 2 a.m. on Saturday.

The findings by the DGGI have sent shockwaves across business circles. According to sources, the Jaisuka brothers allegedly generated fake ITC claims without any actual supply of goods or services, causing significant losses to the government exchequer.

Additionally, sources disclosed that investigators broke through walls in their properties, recovering several kilograms of gold and cash worth crores. However, DGGI officials remained tight-lipped about the seizures.

DGGI officials have not revealed the exact amount of the seizure or the penalty imposed. However, insiders confirmed that the brothers were slapped with a notice to clear pending taxes amounting to several crores in the next few days and were made to pay advance GST on the spot in the early hours of Saturday.

Time for clean politics in India

The criminalization of politics has long been a concern in India, undermining the country's democratic foundations and eroding public trust. The presence of individuals with criminal backgrounds in political roles poses a grave threat to governance, justice and societal well-being. Justice Pankaj Mithal of the Supreme Court recently voiced the need for clean politics, stating that the citizens of India deserve a "clean India," which inherently demands politicians with untainted reputations. This timely remark comes against the backdrop of the upcoming Delhi Assembly elections, a critical juncture to reflect on the kind of leadership India needs.

Justice Mithal made this observation while rejecting the interim bail plea of Tahir Hussain, an AIMIM candidate and accused in the 2020 Delhi riots that tragically claimed 53 lives and left many others injured. The allegations against Hussain extend beyond inciting violence, encompassing the murder of a Home Ministry official and involvement in multiple other cases, including one under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA). His participation in politics, despite facing such severe charges, is emblematic of a broader issue-individuals with criminal records often gaining access to positions of power.

Justice Mithal's stance underscores a harsh reality: political platforms are frequently exploited by individuals with tainted images to legitimize their status and evade justice. Despite being implicated in serious crimes, such candidates often emerge victorious, sometimes even while in custody, as their supporters portray them as "Robin Hood" figures. This phenomenon perpetuates a cycle where politics becomes a haven for those who should instead face the full extent of the law.

Historically, politics and criminality in India have shared an uneasy relationship. Initially, politicians employed individuals with questionable backgrounds to influence elections through intimidation or manipulation. Over time, these very individuals realized the immense power politics offered and began contesting elections themselves. The result? An alarming number of lawmakers with pending criminal cases, some involving grave charges such as murder, assault and corruption.

The numbers paint a grim picture. According to various studies, a significant percentage of elected representatives in India have criminal cases against them. This trend is not just a moral failure but also a practical impediment to governance. Leaders burdened by criminal cases often prioritize self-preservation over public welfare, diverting attention and resources from development to legal battles and personal agendas.

Justice Mithal's remarks bring to light the urgent need for systemic reforms. One such measure could involve barring individuals with serious criminal charges from contesting elections until they are acquitted. Critics argue that this might violate the principle of "innocent until proven guilty," but the counterpoint is compelling-those accused of heinous crimes must not be allowed to wield legislative power while their innocence remains unproven. Safeguards, such as fast-tracking trials for political candidates, could address concerns of undue delays in justice.

Eventful week for Indian stock markets, budget holds key for directional breakout Mumbai, Jan 25 (IANS) Bulls made several attempts to bounce back but the overall sentiment remained weak as Nifty slipped for the third consecutive week amid geopolitical uncertainties.

It was, however, an eventful week on both global and domestic fronts but despite the developments, there was no significant change in the price structure.

"Aside from Tuesday's strong sell-off from higher levels, the week saw choppy sessions, eventually ending with a modest loss of around half a per cent, just below 23,100," said Rajesh Bhosale from Angel One.

While the broader markets were under pressure, the sell-off in the benchmark index showed signs of slowing down.

"This could be a precursor as we approach the budget week, a key event that often sets the market tone, either continuing the current trend or signalling a reversal," according to Bhosale.

Indian stock markets remained volatile on Friday as selling pressure at higher levels weighed on benchmark indices.

At the closing bell, the BSE Sensex was at 76,190.46, down 329.92 points or 0.49 per cent, while the Nifty 50 slipped 113.15 points or 0.49 per cent to finish the day at 23,092.2.

Both indices touched intra-day highs of 76,985.95 and 23,347.30, respectively, before losing momentum. Indian equities ended a volatile session on a weak note as global optimism failed to lift domestic markets.

According to Siddhartha Khemka of Motilal Oswal Financial Services Ltd, broader market indices this week were under heavy selling pressure as Nifty midcap100 lost 1.6 per cent and Nifty smallcap100 plunged 2.4 per cent.

The FPIs offloaded equities worth Rs 5,463 crore on Friday, pushing their cumulative outflows for the month to Rs 66,322 crore.

In global developments, the Bank of Japan hiked interest rates by 25bps to 0.5 per cent, bringing its policy rate to its highest level since 2008, as it seeks to normalise its monetary policy.

"On the other hand, US' benchmark S&P 500 rose to a record high, while the other two indices gained for the fourth day in a row after US President Donald Trump called for lower interest rates and cheaper oil prices," said Khemka.

According to market experts, traders should closely monitor these levels and adjust their strategies accordingly.

"In the midcap space, we saw mixed performance, with some days experiencing sharp sell-offs and others seeing strong rallies. Such volatile movements and themes are likely to continue, so traders need to remain agile in their stock selection," said experts.

Domestic equities are expected to trade within a broad range with some volatility amidst the Q3 result season, unfolding of US President Trump's economic policies and the Union Budget on Saturday (February 1).

PSU and capex themed stocks such as railway, defence, capital goods will be in focus ahead of the Budget, said experts.

Republic Day : National festival of democratic sovereign Bharat

Er. Prabhat Kishore

After a long struggle, Bharat got independence from British monarchy on 15 August 1947. At that time, the nation did not have its own constitution, on the basis of which the governance could be run under a democratic system. On 29 August 1947, the Indian Constituent Assembly constituted a 7-member drafting committee under the chairmanship of Dr. Ambedkar, which submitted the draft copy of the Constitution to the Assembly on 4 November 1948.

After thorough discussion and debate, the Constitution prepared was adopted by the Constituent Assembly on behalf of the people of Bharat on 26 November 1949 (Margashirsha Shukla Saptami, Samvat 2006 Vikrami) with the signatures of 284 members. But the date for its implementation was fixed two months later 26 January 1950, because on this historic day i.e. 26 January 1930, on the auspicious occasion of Vasant Panchami, the resolution of "Purna Swaraj" (complete independence) was passed in the Lahore session of the Indian National Congress and the stagnant freedom struggle got new momentum and energy.

It took 2 years 11 months and 18 days to give a concrete shape to the Constitution of Bharat. The Constitution of Bharat is the longest, most comprehensive and detailed written constitution in the world. The Constitution as originally adopted had a preamble, 395 chapters (divided into 22 parts) and 8 schedules. The controversial Government of India Act 1935, passed by the United Kingdom Parliament, was replaced by the Constitution of Bharat on 26 January 1950 and it became a legal indigenous document. On the same day, Deshratna Dr. Rajendra Prasad was sworn in as the first President of Bharat, the supreme constitutional head, and the Constituent Assembly was transitioned into the Parliament of Bharat under the transitional provisions of new constitution.

In fact, after attaining independence on 15 August 1947, first Governor General Lord Mountbatten and afterwards Chakravarti Rajagopalachari discharged the responsibility as constitutional head. There was a lot of political maneuvering, upheaval and checkmate moves in the then Congress in the selection of the first President of Bharat. On the one hand, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru wanted to continue with the then Governor General Rajagopalachari as the first President by making it a question of his prestige; while on the other hand, Deputy Prime Minister and Home Minister Sardar Patel, who had a strong hold on the Congress organization as well as the government, and most Congressmen were in favour of the Chairman of the Constituent Assembly, Dr. Rajendra Prasad. Ultimately, ignoring all the chess moves, Rajendra Babu was given the command of the first constitutional head of the nation.

Bharat is called the mother of democracy. The democratic system here is much older than the western concept of democracy. The constitution of any country is the foundation of its governance system. The preamble of the Constitution of Bharat begins with the words "WE, THE PEOPLE OF INDIA", which emphasises the basic spirit of our Constitution i.e. democracy. The preamble states that this constitution ensures social, economic and political Justice, Liberty of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship, Equality of status and of opportunity and promotes Fraternity assuring the dignity of the individual and the unity and integrity of the Nation.

However, after independence, more than a hundred amendments have been made to the original constitution from time to time till September 2024, some of which were also termed controversial. As of today, the constitution consists of a preamble, 448 chapters (divided into 25 parts) and 12 schedules. While the Constitution of Bharat on the one hand gives the nation the character of a sovereign democratic republic, it also guarantees its citizens their duties and rights. We are proud to be citizens of a nation where every citizen has equal rights. Accordingly, it is the duty of every citizen to respect this right and make his valuable contribution towards nation building.

The historic day of Republic Day gives all the countrymen the pride and self-realization of being the largest democratic nation in the world. It not only reflects the power of the Constitution, but also reaffirms the democratic values and rights of the country. This day inspires us to work together and contribute to the all-round development of the nation.

Republic Day: A Time for Reflection, Renewal, and Action

Dr (Fr) Mukti Clarence

Republic Day is not merely a date on our calendar; it is a profound reminder of the ideals that define India. On January 26, 1950, the adoption of the Constitution marked the transformation of our country into a sovereign, socialist, secular, and democratic republic. As we commemorate the 76th Republic Day in 2025, let us honour its significance by reflecting on our shared responsibilities, confronting the challenges that persist, and embracing a vision for a united and inclusive India.

The Constitution: A Living Legacy

Our Constitution is not just a legal document but the foundation of India's democracy. Crafted with meticulous care by visionaries like Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, it guarantees justice, liberty, and equality while celebrating the country's rich diversity.

However, the promise of the Constitution often remains unfulfilled. Divides based on religion, caste, and gender, along with disparities in education and healthcare, highlight the work still to be done. For many, democracy appears vibrant only on paper, as inequalities persist, leaving the marginalized struggling to access their basic rights. As we reflect on these realities, Republic Day reminds us of our collective responsibility to uphold the principles enshrined in the Constitution. It is not just a day for celebration but an opportunity to confront these challenges head-on and work toward an India that embodies true justice and inclusivity.

Unity in Diversity: Our Greatest Strength

India's unparalleled diversity is both its greatest strength and its most significant challenge. Republic Day offers a chance to reaffirm our commitment to unity, breaking down the divides of religion, language, caste, and region that continue to hinder progress. Bridging these gaps requires inclusivity and compassion, ensuring that every citizen feels valued and empowered. While celebrating our cultural heritage through art, music, and traditions, we must also strive to make this heritage a source of unity rather than division. By participating in initiatives that foster understanding and collaboration, we can create a society where diversity becomes a bridge to shared growth and prosperity.

Action over Celebration: Building a Better Tomorrow

Republic Day is not only a commemoration of our past but also a call to action for the future. The enduring disparities between the rich and the poor, coupled with the struggles of the lower middle class in accessing education and healthcare, demand immediate attention. As citizens, we must move beyond symbolic gestures and take concrete steps to address these issues. The entrepreneurial spirit ignited by the rights guaranteed in our Constitution must be harnessed to drive economic inclusion, empowering individuals across all strata of society. Moreover, supporting the silent heroes of our nation-the armed forces, police, and first responders-under-scores our commitment to collective well-being. This Republic Day, let us resolve to embody the change we wish to see: an India that is not only powerful and successful but also compassionate and equitable. The true essence of this day lies in our unwavering dedication to justice, equality, and fraternity-values that, when lived out, create a republic worth celebrating every day.

Environmentalists' body in Bengal to assess condition of River Ganga's part flowing through Kolkata

Kolkata, Jan 25 (IANS) An association of Kolkata-based environmental activists, under the name and style of Morning Walker's Guild of Rabindra Sarobar, has outlined a unique initiative to observe and document the current state of the Heritage Ganga and its ghats (concrete banks) in the stretch from Outram to Dakshineswar-Belur in Kolkata.

Rabindra Sarobar, popularly known as Dhakuria Lake, is the biggest artificial lake in South Kolkata and a favourite haunting spot of environmentalists and environmental activists.

The convenor of the association, Somendra Mohan Ghosh, an acclaimed city-based green technologist and environmentalist, told IANS that the expedition will be conducted on February 9 aiming to assess the present situation of the river and its concrete banks locally known as ghats within the stretch in Kolkata.

"This endeavour will provide invaluable insights into the environmental and conservation efforts required to protect this sacred and culturally significant water body," Ghosh added. He also said that the group will also share the findings of the expedition with common people along with video clips and still photographs of the event.

"A comprehensive report will also be submitted to the appropriate authorities both under the Union and the West Bengal government so that the latter can adopt appropriate steps accordingly," Ghosh added.

The expedition has been poetically titled as 'Kolkatar Ganga Ghatar Golpo' (The tale of Concrete River Banks of Ganges in Kolkata).

The initiative is being viewed as quite significant considering that the work for the restoration of Kolkata's iconic 'Adi Ganga' also known as Gobindapur Creek and Tolly's Canal is scheduled to start soon.

The restoration work comes under the Namami Gange Programme, an integrated conservation mission under the National Mission of Clean Ganga, to accomplish the twin objectives of effective abatement of pollution, conservation and rejuvenation of River Ganga.

The work for the restoration of Adi Ganga is the second biggest revival project under the Namami Gange Programme. Basically, a stream that was part of the Hooghly River flowing in the Kolkata area, Adi Ganga was the main flow of that river between the 15th and 17th centuries.

State government sources said that a total of Rs 753 crore had been earmarked for this particular project, which involves dredging for over 15.5 kilometres.

Why India celebrates Republic Day on January 26

India will celebrate its 76th Republic Day on Sunday (January 26). The iconic Republic Day Parade, featuring contingents from the Indian armed forces and the vibrant tableaux from different states and Union Territories highlighting their own rich cultural heritage, will take place in the national capital.

As the nation prepares for the special occasion, it becomes imperative to understand the historical and cultural significance of this day.

Why India observes Republic Day on January 26

India became an independent nation on August 15, 1947. While the day marked the end of nearly 200 years of British rule in the country, it wasn't until January 26, 1950, that India got its democratic soul, the Constitution.

After gaining independence, a Drafting Committee was constituted on August 29, 1947. It was tasked with preparing the Constitution of India. Dr BR Ambedkar served as the chairman of this committee, which also had on board K.M. Munshi, Gopala Swami Ayyangar, Muhammed Saadulah, Alladi Krishnaswamy Iyer, N Madhava Rao (who replaced BL Mitter), and TT Krishnamachari (who replaced DP Khaitan).

A formal draft of the Constitution was presented to the Constituent Assembly on November 4, 1947.

And then after numerous sessions to incorporate various changes in it over the subsequent two years, the Assembly finally adopted it on January 24, 1950. A total of 308 members of the Assembly signed two copies of the text, one each in Hindi and English.

This was a pivotal moment for the country, establishing its status as an independent republic.

Significance of January 26

The Indian National Congress (INC) had designated January 26, 1930, as a day of "Purna Swaraj" from British rule during their Lahore Session. They urged all citizens to observe it as Independence Day.

This was in response to the British proposal granting India dominion status as an independent country. At the time, the tricolour flag was unfurled for the very first time in the history of India.

Twenty years after this, the Constitution of India was officially adopted on January 26, 1950.

exchanges and provided a platform for the participants to connect with PM Modi.

During the interaction, the Prime Minister stressed the importance of national unity and diversity. He urged the participants to interact with people from different states to strengthen the spirit of 'Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat', stating, "These interactions foster understanding and unity, which are vital for the nation's progress." He stressed that such interactions were essential in nurturing a collective sense of belonging, vital for India's continued growth.

PM Modi also spotlighted the importance of fulfilling duties as responsible citizens to achieve the vision of Viksit Bharat (Developed India). He said, "Remaining united and committed to strengthening the nation through collective efforts is key to our growth." The Prime Minister also encouraged the youth to register on the My Bharat Portal and engage actively in nation-building activities. He

Speaking to mediapersons here on Friday, DGP Y.B. Khurania said: "For the first time, the Odisha Police team will go to 10 uninhabited islands on the Odisha coast and unfurl the Tricolour on the occasion of Republic Day celebrations."

Khurania also stated that this will be done as per the instructions of the Prime Minister.

"Our team has already completed a survey by visiting 10 such Islands. Arrangements have been made to fly the national flag at those islands," he added.

Meanwhile, DGP Khurania on Friday held a threadbare discussion on various aspects related to coastal security during a meeting with Donny Michael, the Additional Director General of Coast Guard for Eastern Seaboard.

The DGP after the meeting told the mediapersons that the Odisha Police have prepared various new plans to strengthen the coastal security along Odisha coast.

"We are planning to intensify coastal patrolling, increase aerial surveillance and set up a command-and-control system," added Khurania. He also noted that special inputs related to coastal security were shared by both of them with each other during the discussions. The Odisha DGP stated that they also held discussions on how the coast guard can assist Odisha police in coastal security.

"It has been decided during the discussions that we will constitute a board of officers comprising officials from both coast guard and Odisha police. They will carry out surveys of all the areas along the Odisha coast. They will recommend to us the type of boats required for patrolling in different areas along the coast," said Khurania.

The Odisha DGP said that after getting the survey report, arrangements will be made to provide the particular type of boats, as recommended by the board of officers, to the marine police stations in the state.

"We also held discussions on the lack of adequate manpower for coastal security. We have a scheme for the deployment of retired Indian Navy and the Coast Guard personnel at the marine police stations. We shared this information with the ADG of Coast Guard. We hope that coast guard officials would be available for deployment at the marine police stations after retirement in the future," the police officer said.

2nd T20I: Axar and Varun take two wickets each as England set India a target of 166

Chennai, Jan 25 (IANS) Spin duo of Axar Patel and Varun Chakravarthy took two wickets each as England set India a target of 166 after making 165/9 in second T20I at the MA Chidambaram Stadium on Saturday.

After being put into batting first, captain Jos Buttler was fluent again to top-score with 45, while Brydon Carse led a late counter-attack with 17-ball 31 as England put in a much-improved batting performance. But with the pitch being good for batting and dew setting in, though there's something in it for bowlers, it remains to be seen if England have enough on board to avoid being 2-0 behind in the five-game series.

For India, Axar and Varun were the standout bowlers with 2-32 and 2-38 respectively, as the hosts' bowled 14 overs of spin, the joint second-most their slower bowlers have bowled in a men's T20I game. The start was great for the hosts as Arshdeep Singh removed Phil Salt with a short ball which he pulled straight to deep square leg.

Buttler bossed Arshdeep in the third over by heaving him twice, before hitting in the gap through off-side to pick two fours and a six. Local boy Washington Sundar struck another blow in power-play as Ben Duckett looked to reverse-sweep his slower ball, but gave a top-edge to point.

While Buttler attacked by slamming Sundar and Ravi Bishnoi for six, Harry Brook dazzled by slog-sweeping and going inside-out against Axar for six and four respectively. But his promising stay was cut short by Chakaravarthy, who got one to turn in from outside off and castle Brook.

At the mid-point of the innings, Axar had the big fish when Buttler tried to go over mid-wicket, but was caught in the deep for 45 off 30 balls. The left-arm spinner struck again when Liam Livingstone went hard on the pull, but holed out to deep backward square leg.

Debutant Jamie Smith gave a good account of his foot movement by hammering two sixes and a four in his 12-ball 22, before lofting to long-off against Abhishek Sharma.

Carse stepped up by dancing down the pitch and using his crease well to hit three sixes and a four in his 17-ball 31, before he and Jamie Overton fell in quick succession. A boundary each from Adil Rashid, Jofra Archer and Mark Wood ensured England got over the 160-mark.

Brief Scores: England 165/9 (Jos Buttler 45, Brydon Carse 31; Axar Patel 2-32, Varun Chakaravarthy 2-38) against India

I-League 2024-25: Artigas' stoppage time winner helps Rajasthan shock Churchill 1-0

Jaipur, Jan 25 (IANS) Rajasthan United FC shocked Churchill Brothers 1-0 in the I-League 2024-25 encounter at the Vidyadhar Nagar Stadium on Saturday. The loss was Churchill's second of the New Year. Spanish striker Gerard Artigas delivered the winner deep into the add-on time of the second half.

The defeat came as a double blow for the visitors as it also cost them the top position they were occupying in the league table. While Namdhari FC, who outclassed Shillong Lajong FC in the day's first match, are now toppers with 20 points, the Goa side have dropped to the second place with 19 points from 10 outings. Rajasthan meanwhile moved up to fourth place with 14 points in their kitty from nine matches. The win extended the Desert Warriors' unbeaten streak to five games, in which they have bagged 11 points.

After a shocking loss to open the new year, Churchill's form reset to normal, and the league toppers were hoping to extend their advantage after Inter Kashi's loss the prior evening. Rajasthan though were not an easy case to crack, unbeaten in four and putting together a run of results that not just belied their early season form but also had slowly turned it around.

Predictably, the visitors were the ones who started brighter, and in a first half devoid of much real goalmouth action, were the ones who conjured up the big chances of the period. The first arrived seemingly on a platter for Kingslee Fernandes, the forward's run at the far post picked out with a perfect cross from the left. He volleyed high.

Churchill almost got the opener, Lamgoulen Hangshing's cutback from the right falling in the path of Kingslee running into the box. The forward's shot was on target but bounced off a clueless defender blocking the goal.

The game wore on without either side able to break through, half chances also petering out to few and far between. Arguably the best chance fell to Churchill's Nishchal Chandan in the 88th minute, when a half-cleared corner fell at his feet inside the six-yard box.

2nd T20I: Smith and Carse picked, Sundar and Jurel come in as India elect to bowl first against England

Chennai, Jan 25 (IANS) India and England both made two changes to their respective playing XIs as captain Suryakumar Yadav won the toss and elected to bowl first in the second T20I at the MA Chidambaram Stadium here on Saturday. India are leading the five-match T20I series 1-0.

Local boy Washington Sundar, and Dhruv Jurel replaced the injured duo of Nitish Kumar Reddy and Rinku Singh in India's playing eleven. While Reddy is unavailable for the rest of the series due to a side strain, Rinku is out for two games because of a lower back spasm picked while fielding in the T20I series opener, which India won by seven wickets in Kolkata.

"Looks like a good track, there was a little bit of dew yesterday, hoping the wicket will be better in the evening. It looks good, but it looks hard, hope it stays the same. We want to stick to the basics and have the same approach we had in the last game in all the departments. Really looking forward to the game. Fielding is the one thing which brings everyone together, brings a lot of energy and positivity," said Suryakumar.

For England, Jamie Smith is making his T20I debut after Jacob Bethell is out due to illness, while Brydon Carse comes in for Gus Atkinson.

KIWG 2025: Telangana lead medal tally; ITBP tame Army in ice-hockey

Leh (Ladakh), Jan 25 (IANS) Pranav Madav Surapaneni won Telangana's second gold medal of the Khelo India Winter Games 2025, winning the ice-skating competition but all attention on Saturday was on the blockbuster ice-hockey league match between Indian Army and Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP).

With about 10 minutes left on the clock, Stanzin Mingure scored twice in succession to script a dramatic 3-1 victory for ITBP. Army's defence collapsed in the third and final period of the contest, one of the greatest rivalries in Indian sports.

All roads on Saturday led to the 5000-capacity NDS sports complex for the Army versus ITBP ice-hockey match. Like always, the stands were full of Armymen, dressed in their olive green attire, backing their team in big numbers. But it was Mohammed Ismail who drew first blood for ITBP in the second minute of a match that often got a bit physical. Tsewang Dorje drew level for the Army with a lovely flick in at the far post early in the second period, but the Indian Army, the defending champions, lost control in the third period and suffered their first loss of the Khelo India Winter Games 2025.

"The team's strategy worked perfectly, bringing us closer to securing the victory today. I managed to score a goal for the team and I am happy with that. The Khelo India Winter Games are being professionally managed and such an open environment encourages us to perform better," said ITBP's centre-forward Ismail said on Saturday.

After Nayana Sri Talluri on Friday, Pranav Madav Surapaneni won Telangana's second gold in the skating competition.

Amelia Kerr crowned ICC Women's T20I Cricketer of the Year for 2024

New Delhi, Jan 25 (IANS) New Zealand all-rounder Amelia Kerr has been named as winner of ICC Women's T20I Cricketer of the Year award for 2024. She beat competition from Ireland all-rounder Orla Prendergast, Sri Lanka captain Chamari Athapaththu and South Africa skipper Laura Wolvaardt to get the coveted honour.

Amelia has also become the second New Zealand women's cricketer after the veteran Suzie Bates (2016) to have won this award. In 2024, Amelia was at the peak of her powers in T20Is by amassing 387 runs at an average of 24.18 while picking 29 wickets at an average of 15.55 in a landmark year where New Zealand won the T20 World Cup for the first time.

"It's a huge honour to win the ICC Women's T20I Cricketer of the Year award. With it being a T20 World Cup year, this format was really important. I love the responsibility that the White Ferns have given me and the teammates I have around me who back me, and it's a team I love playing for," said Amelia in an ICC statement on Saturday.

In New Zealand's winning run in the T20 World Cup, Amelia picked 15 wickets, the most scalps ever taken by a single bowler in the history of the tournament, at an average of 7.33 and an economy rate of 4.85 across six matches.

She also finished 135 runs in six innings at an average of 27, which put her in the top ten run-scorers of the competition. After stifling India in their eye-catching opening round victory in Dubai, Amelia claimed four wickets against defending champions Australia, though New Zealand lost the game.

HIL 2024-25: Team Gonasika come back to beat Tamil Nadu Dragons 4-2

Rourkela, Jan 25 (IANS) Team Gonasika put on an impressive performance to defeat the Tamil Nadu Dragons 4-2 in a Pool B match of the Men's Hockey India League 2024-25, held at the Birsu Munda Stadium here on Saturday. Gonasika's goals came from Araijeet Singh Hundal (14'), Jack Waller (45'), Tim Howard (50'), and Chandanda Nikkin Thimmaiah (51'), while Amit Rohidas (8') and Tom Craig (56') found the net for the Dragons.

Despite the loss, the Tamil Nadu Dragons held on to the top spot in the points table with 17 points from nine games. Team Gonasika, meanwhile, remained in seventh place with 10 points from their nine matches.

Team Gonasika kicked off the match with a high-tempo attack, earning a penalty corner within the opening minute. However, they couldn't make the most of this early opportunity, as the Tamil Nadu Dragons displayed a strong defensive structure, successfully thwarting the threat.

The Dragons quickly turned defense into offence, launching a swift counterattack that earned them their first penalty corner of the match. Captain Amit Rohidas (8') stepped up and brilliantly slotted the ball home with precision, giving his side an early 1-0 lead. Buoyed by the advantage, the Tamil Nadu Dragons shifted their strategy, focusing on controlling possession and dictating the tempo of the game.

Meanwhile, Gonasika, determined to fight back, leaned into a counter-attacking style, which soon paid dividends as a well-executed play saw Struan Walker deliver a pinpoint pass to Araijeet Singh Hundal (14'), who found space and unleashed a powerful shot, levelling the score with a clinical finish. The thrilling first quarter came to a close with both teams locked at 1-1, setting the stage for an exciting battle ahead.

The second quarter saw both teams engaging in early exchanges, with each side making several circle entries. Team Gonasika came close to taking the lead multiple times and earned two penalty corners, but they were unable to capitalize on their chances. Despite the attacking efforts from both teams, the second quarter remained goalless, and the halftime score stayed level at 1-1.

Team Gonasika began the third quarter on an attacking note and won a penalty corner, but Tamil Nadu Dragons goalkeeper David Harte stretched to his left to make a good save and keep his team on level terms.

In the meantime, the Dragons increased their attacking intensity and tested the Gonasika's defence on multiple occasions to put the pressure back on them. The strategy helped them win two back-to-back penalty corners, but they failed to covert any of them.

Team Gonasika eventually managed to break the deadlock when Jack Waller (45') skillfully deflected a pass from Manpreet Singh to convert a penalty corner, putting his team ahead. As the penultimate quarter came to a close, Team Gonasika held a 2-1 lead, setting up an intense final phase of the match.

With the scoreline in their favour, Gonasika came out firing in the fourth and final quarter, quickly extending their lead. Captain Tim Howard (50') capitalised on a perfectly placed long pass from Jack Waller, deflecting it into the net to make it 3-1. Just a minute later, Chandanda Nikkin Thimmaiah (51') added another goal, finishing off an impressive team effort to push Gonasika's advantage to 4-1.

Facing a significant deficit, the Tamil Nadu Dragons ramped up their intensity, shifting to a more aggressive attacking strategy. Their efforts paid off when Tom Craig (56') managed to score, narrowing the gap to 4-2. However, despite their push, this proved to be the final goal of the match, as Team Gonasika secured a well-earned 4-2 victory.
